ARTIST WEBPAGE POLICY

Also available at www.rockportartcenter.com/resources

- Artist webpages are designed for our Member Artists to share information and images of their work with RCA's online audience. Member Artists are not required to disclose any information they do not wish to appear on their individual page.
- Artist webpages are located by visiting www.rockportartcenter.com and clicking "Artists" on the left navigation menu bar. It is also accessible at www.rockportartcenter.com/artists
- Artists wishing to post their own page must be current members of Rockport Center for the Arts (RCA). If current membership expires and artist has not renewed within 30 days, the artists' webpage will be removed. Artist must resend all information including photos if they wish to renew their membership and webpage after the 30 day grace period.
- If you are a current member and wish to have a page on the Art Center's website, email john@rockportartcenter.com with the following:
  - short bio/artist statement
  - email address (optional)
  - your website link/url (optional)
  - headshot (optional; you may use an image of your work instead if preferred)
  - 3-7 images of your best work
- All material posted on Rockport Center for the Arts' website is subject to approval by the Directorial Staff and Board of Directors if deemed appropriate, including content posted on individual artist pages.
- RCA does not guarantee your posting will be available immediately.
- RCA is not responsible for incorrect information, incorrect hyperlinks, resizing images, or inaccessible pages due to website maintenance or server errors. Please see our Privacy Policy (available at our website, under "Links and Resources") for more information about internet accessibility and safety.
- Poster Artists, Artists' whose work is in our Sculpture Garden and/or Permanent Collection, and any other artist living or deceased may have a page maintained by Rockport Center for the Arts at our sole discretion.
